

A thousand years into the future — what would you do? Alone in an unforgiving and vicious planet, World War III starts and finds twelve-year-old Clio caught in the middle. Crumbling on a global scale, fire spits in epic destruction, the height of civilization is cast into darkness. The few remaining Resistance forces battle against machine and monsters. Cy, a lone cyborg is mankind's closest thing to perfection. With flesh and graphene, he fights his own demons. Evil would watch the last lights of a once great people smolder out and trail up in a gray smoke. Clio and Cy and the Resistance must battle to save the ones they love, to save the world.
