

The Beldonald Holbein

Mrs. Munden had not yet been to my studio on so good a pretext as when she first intimated that it would be quite open to meshould I only care, as she called it, to throw the handkerchiefto paint her beautiful sister-in-law. I neednt go here more than is essential into the question of Mrs. Munden, who would really, by the way, be a story in herself. She has a manner of her own of putting things, and some of those she has put to me! Her implication was that Lady Beldonald hadnt only seen and admired certain examples of my work, but had literally been prepossessed in favour of the painters personality. Had I been struck with this sketch I might easily have imagined her ladyship was throwing me the handkerchief. She hasnt done, my visitor said, what she ought.
