

The Hunting of the Snark

The nonsensical poem The Hunting of the Snark (An Agony in Eight Fits) was written by Lewis Carroll in 1874 and published in 1876. Describing with infinite humor the impossible voyage of an improbable crew to find an inconceivable creature, the work borrows in-part from Carroll's Jabberwocky in Through the Looking-Glass. The Hunting of the Snark shares its fictional setting with Lewis Carroll's earlier poem Jabberwocky published in his children's novel Through the Looking-Glass (1871). Eight nonsense words from Jabberwocky appear in The Hunting of the Snark: bandersnatch, beamish, frumious, galumphing, jubjub, mimsiest (which previously appeared as mimsy in Jabberwocky), outgrabe and uffish. In a letter to the mother of his young friend Gertrude Chataway, Carroll described the domain of the Snark as an island frequented by the Jubjub and the Bandersnatch. No doubt the very island where the Jabberwock was slain.
